THE VICTORIA CROSS

CONTINUED PROM

"The Monthly Army Lists" of March, June, July, October and December, 1857, January, February, May, July, September, October and November, 1858, January, February, May, June, July, August, October, November and December, 1859, February, March, June, July, September, October and December, 1860, March, April, August and September, 1861, March, June, July and December, 1862, May, 1863, and February, August, September, October and December, 1864, August, 1865, January, 1866, and February, 1867.

War Office, December 17th, 1867.

THE QUEEN has been graciously pleased to signify her intention to confer the Decoration of "The Victoria Cross" on the under-mentioned Officer and Private Soldiers of Her Majesty's Army, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, for their gallant conduct at the Little Andaman Island, as recorded against their mames, viz.:—

2nd Battalion, 24th Regiment.—Assistant-Surgeon Camperll Mills Douglas, M.D.;
Private Thomas Murphy; Private James Cooper; Private David Bell; Private William Griffiths.—Act of Courage for which recommended.—For the very gallant and daring manner in which, on the 7th of May, 1867, they risked their lives in manning a boat and proceeding through a dangerous surf to the rescue of some of their comrades, who formed part of an expedition which had been sent to the Island of Little Andaman, by order of the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah, with the view of ascertaining the fate of the commander and seven of the crew of the ship "Assam Valley," who had landed there, and were supposed to have been murdered by the natives.

The officer who commanded the troops on the occasion reports: "About an hour later in the day, Dr. Douglas, 2nd Battalion, 24th Regiment, and the four privates referred to, gallantly manning the second gig, made their way through the surf almost to the shore, but finding their boat was half filled with water, they retired. A second attempt made by Dr. Douglas and party proved successful, five of us being safely passed through the surf to the boats outside. A third and last trip got the whole of the party left on shore safe to the boats."

It is stated that Dr. Douglas accomplished these trips through the surf to the shore by no ordinary exertion. He stood in the bows of the boat, and worked her in an intrepid and seamanlike manner, cool to a degree, as if what he was then doing was an ordinary act of everyday life. The four privates behaved in an equally cool and collected manner, rowing through the roughest surf when the slightest hesitation or want of pluck on the part of any one of them would have been attended by the gravest results. It is reported that seventeen officers and men were thus saved from what must otherwise have been a fearful risk, if not certainty of death.

under Emergent Circumstance 9. Soldiers' Gardens.

PINANCE.

Clause 1.—Increased Pay of the Army.

In Clause 49, Army Circulars, 1867, paragraph 7, the words "re-engaged within one year" are not intended to affect the claim of men who have been permitted to re-engage under warrants in force from time to time, and have been allowed to reckon former service. Such soldiers are entitled to the increased pay of 1d. a day under the Royal Warrant of 29th June, 1867—Army, Circulars, Clause 41.

Cl. 2.—Pay of Military Foremen of Works.

It is hereby notified, with reference to paragraphs 3 and 5 of Clause 19, Army Circulars, 1867, that the rate of regimental pay issuable (in addition to departmental pay) to military foremen of works is that, of serjeant, or of any superior rank held at the date of appointment. The military foremen of works of the third class will retain any superior rank to that of serjeant which they may have held at the time of their appointment.

Cl. 3.—Billet Meney.

It has been represented to the Secretary of State for War that innkeepers are frequently subjected to considerable inconvenience and expense in recovering the billied money due to them for providing the requisite accommodation when soldiers travelling, either singly or in small parties, neglect to pay for their billets before leaving their

In order to remove this ground of complaint, Sir John Pakington desires that for the future, soldiers, when detached on particular service, shall be furnished with sufficient subsistence money, and particularly instructed to disoharge the legal demands of the innkeepers before leaving their billets, in accordance with the directions contained in the 66th Clause of the Mutiny Act.

Cl. 4.—Fuel.

The Secretary of State has decided that the issues of inland and sea-borne coals laid down by W. O. Circular, 767, for Home Stations, shall be reverted to. Clause 64, Army Circulars, 1867, is therefore cancelled, and 100 lbs. of inland coal will, as formerly, be issued as the equivalent of 80 lbs. of sea-borne coal.

Cl. 5.—Married Soldiers' Allowances.

With reference to § 22 to 25, Clause 50, Army Circulars, 1867, the following regulations will be observed in depôt battalions in the appropriation of separate rooms:

1. When the staff of a depôt battalion have been provided for, the remainder of the separate rooms allotted to the pattalion, under W. O. Circular, 963, will be divided amongst the several regimental deputs on its establishment.

2. When the accommodation allotted to a regimental depôt under the preceding paragraph is sufficient only for a portion of the regulated married establishment, the remainder may receive lodging-money, provided that no other accommodation is available in barracks or hired buildings, and provided that the proportion of the married establishment in each regiment (depôt included) does not exceed that fixed by Clause 50. Army Circulars.

Cl. 6.-Marking Horse Appointments.

It has been represented to the Secretary of State for War that hoof pickers can be marked, without injury, with the ordinary stamps issued to regiments from public Officers commanding mounted services are informed, therefore, that the allowance of 1d. hitherto granted to arrecurers finding their own tools for this service will cease from the date of this circular.

CLOTHING.

Cl. 7.-Hand-knitted Secks.

Officers commanding regiments of infantry serving at home are informed that patterns of hand-knitted worsted socks will be forwarded to them, and that supplies of socks of this description will be issued when specially demanded.

The price will be the same as for the present regulation frame-knitted secka.

It should be clearly understood that the soldier may take the hand-knitted socks or not, as he may think proper, the Field Marshal Commanding in Chief having approved of both patterns being in use at the same time.

COMMISSARIAT.

Cl. 8. - Instructions Regulating Commissariat Supplies in Great Britain, and the Provision of other Supplies and of Transport, under Emergent Circumstances.

From 1st January, 1868, the mode of issuing and accounting for commissariat supplies, and for the conduct of other services prescribed for Ireland by Clause 52. Army Circulars, 1867, will be extended to Great Britain, as far as it may be applicable without disturbance to the existing arrangements with regard to the payment of accounts of contractors and others.

SOLDIERS' GARDENS.

C1. 9. The Secretary of State has decided to allow the issue, at the public expense, of tools for the cultivation of garden ground allotted to the troops under W. O. Chronier: 904. dated 2nd March, 1865.

The tools will not be issued to individual soldiers permitted to cultivate saidens: but each company cultivating a garden will, on application to the harrackmaster, through the general or other officer commanding, be supplied with one set, consisting of one of each of the following articles :-

Amade. Line and Reel. Digging Fork. Pickaxe. Mattock. Rake, small. large. Grubbing Hoe, Hoe, small. Waterpot, small. " large. large. Wheelberrow. Trowel.

G.O. 7.-Schools.

The attention of commanding officers is drawn to Clause 101 of the Army School Regulations, whereby it is directed that the business of army schools shall be suspended for an hour on two separate days in each week, to enable the clergy to give religious instruction to classes of adults and children; and general officers are requested to give such directions to the chaplains and officiating clergymen within their respective commands as shall ensure the above order being carried out, requiring them to enter in the school book the hours at which they attend for the discharge of this important duty, and the subject on which, on each occasion, instruction has been given.

G.O. S.—Musketry.

The Field Marshal Commanding in Chief regrets to find, that notwithstanding the repeated orders which have been issued on the subject, the prescribed extra position drills and judging distance practices are still frequently omitted. He therefore desires that the number of times these drills and practices are performed during each month be inserted in the musketry diaries and noticed in the district inspector's reports, and that when they have been omitted, the cause of such omission may be fully explained.

His Royal Highness further observes, by the last quarterly report of the inspectorgeneral of musketry, that the platoon practices do not receive that attention which their importance demands, and that the results, as shown by the diaries and inspector's returns, are comparatively indifferent, and frequently bad, particularly in the "independent firing.

It is manifest that no efforts on the part of the musketry instructor alone can suffice to remedy these defects, and that little improvement can be expected, unless more energetic measures are adopted by commanding officers on their private parades; by systematic and careful execution of the platoon exercise and position drill; by attention to the mode of delivering the word of command when blank firing is going on, and by the field officers, when visiting the parties at drill and practice, enforcing the strictest attention to duty on the part of officers in charge of squads.

His Royal Highness trusts that general officers will take care that the periodical reports of their district inspectors are carefully examined month by month, and that all irregularities and defects therein noticed are immediately corrected.

He reminds all concerned of the directions contained in the several documents quoted in the margin [below], and he hopes to be spared the necessity of issuing further orders on the subjects therein alluded to.

RECRUITING.

The Advantages given to Young Men who serve Her Majesty as Soldiers.

- A Soldier, from his first joining the Army, receives, besides his lodgings, food and clothing, a weekly sum, quite at his own disposal, of two shillings and sixpence, or more.
- 2. After three years' service, if his conduct be good, he further increases that sum, by 7d. a week, and again in every successive five years.
- If the Soldier should qualify himself, he will be before long promoted, and thereby receive further remuneration.
- 4. When sick he has good medical advice with every comfort.
- After twelve years he can leave the service.
 After the first Eight years' service, should he feel inclined, he may give notice of his wish to remain twenty-one years as a Soldier, and if permitted by his Commanding Officer to enter into such further engagement he will, from that date, receive an additional penny a day.

- After the Soldier has completed twenty-one years' service, he is discharged with a pension for life.
- During the time of his service he has the advantage of school instruction, reading and recreation rooms, and out-door games.
- The usual periods of Service Abroad are so arranged that the Soldier has an intermediate period of Home Service, and these changes enable him to see something of the world, and give him an interest in his profession.
- 10. In short, the Soldier has the advantage, if he conduct himself well, of being well cared for, sufficiently paid, and, at the end of his time, provided with a subsistence; besides receiving a distinguishing medal, showing his Sovereign's approbation of his having done his duty well and faithfully to his Country.
- No labouring man, and very few workmen, can feel sure of greater advantages than these now held out to the good Soldier, especially as regards the three important items of Lodgings, Food and Clothing.
